No applied reference teaches the alternation of a selected cancellation mark, or altering a cancellation mark with customer-supplied information. Moreover, none of the references teach, alone or in combination, the limitations recited in independent claims 1, 30, and 36. As such, the independent claims, and claims respectively depending there from, are allowable.

4. Conclusion

a. The applied art does not teach, suggest, or imply the combinations of the recited elements in the pending independent claims, as amended. The Applicant respectfully submits that, as to the claims now pending, a prima facie case of obviousness has not been made out, or in the alternative, the pending claims avoid the rejections. As such, the Applicant respectfully maintains that the pending independent claims are allowable, as are the claims respectively depending therefrom. Accordingly, the present application is in condition for allowance. Reconsideration of the rejections is requested. Allowance of Claims 1 and 17-39 at an early date is solicited.

b. In the event that the Examiner finds any remaining impediment to a prompt allowance of this application which could be clarified by a telephonic interview, the Examiner is respectfully requested to initiate the same with the undersigned attorney.

Dated this 21st day of March 2005.

Respectfully submitted,
